MONDAY NIGHT'S COUNCIL MEETING

The Hammond Stocker Company Given an Extension of Ninety Days.

MILK INSPECTION NEXT

Property on Which Churches Stand Is to Be Exempted From Taxation.

The Council met in regular session last Monday night with Mayor Bott and entire Council present.

After the minutes of the last meeting had been read and adopted, the Fire Committee made a report on the question of providing a night watchman at the north side station, and recommended that Robert Black be employed as chief at a salary of $88 a month and that he be required to sleep at the fire hall. The committee also recommended that the fire hall be given over entirely to the fire and police departments. Councilors Ireland and J. J. moved that the report be accepted and that the appointment of a fire chief be laid over until the next meeting. The motion was adopted.

A communication was received from the School Board asking that the Council provide the Board with $1,500 for current expenses. The matter was referred to the Mayor and Secretary-Treasurer and the Council Treasurer was instructed to ask the Board for estimates for the coming year's needs.

The matter of appointing a building inspector was postponed until the next meeting, and Councilors McLachlan and Fitch were appointed a committee to look into the matter. Councilor Ireland suggested the Council advertise for a building inspector, so that there could be no real complaint by any of the citizens, but Mayor Bott said that he believed that the council could be trusted to select the matter. He said that he had long ceased to worry about any criticism that might be made on any action that the Mayor or Council took, believing that after they had given a question the consideration that the action would be approved by a large majority of the ratepayers.

A communication was received from Rev. H. C. Gibson, of the Church of England, asking that church property be exempted from taxation. Councilor Lavelle and Hicks moved that so much of the property as the church was using be exempted. This motion was carried unanimously.

A letter was read from the Hammond Stocker Company asking that they be given an extension of time in which to erect their plant, giving as a reason for the delay the financial conditions of the country for the past year. After some discussion it was decided that the company be given until July 1 to commence the erection of their plant and that they be required to put up $100, to be forfeited if construction work is not under way at that time.

A communication was read from J. L. Landis & Company regarding to act as assessors for 1910. On motion the offer was accepted.

Mr. Warner appeared before the Council and read an opinion he had received from the Agricultural Inspector General on the qualification of voters on municipal matters. This opinion did not cover the ground fully as it only referred to the manner of getting a name on the list that had been left off by mistake.

A motion was made and carried unanimously that the Secretary-Treasurer notify the owner or owners of the north end of block A to open up the lane at that end of the block.

The Secretary-Treasurer was instructed to communicate with the Provincial Health Department regarding the requirements of milk inspection.

The matter of changing the City Products spur track from the south to the north side of Railway street was brought up by the Mayor and was decided to have it done, and the Secretary-Treasurer was instructed to draw a cheque for $15 to cover the expense of the survey.

There being no other business the Council adjourned.

Wife of Well-Known Citizen, Passes Away

We deeply regret having to report this week the death of Mrs. Robert Mavor, who died last Monday at her home in Thessalon, Ont. Mr. Mavor, who is accountant at the Brick and Coal Company plant here, was summoned to his wife's bedside about two weeks ago and with her when she passed away. Deceased was a young woman in the prime of life. A short time ago she contracted lung trouble, but all that medical skill could do could not restore her to health. Besides a husband deceased leaves two sons, age six and eight years. Mrs. Mavor, who is well known here has the sincere sympathy of the community in his loss and bereavement.

Redcliff and Hat in Football League

Although we have had no intimation of it from any of the local teams we infer from our outside sources that a meeting was held in Medicine Hat last week for the purpose of organizing a football league, consisting of teams from the twin cities. The league will be composed of three teams from the Hat and two from Redcliff. Mr. J. D. Wray and Messrs. J. Inwood and D. C. Marshall were chosen as referees for the season.

The league accepted the kind offer of Mr. Verrill, editor of the News, to provide a cup to be played for by the teams.

Pending other arrangements the schedule was not drawn up. A complete programme was expected to get into circulation for the winners of the league.

New Plaining Mill Starting in Redcliff

Almost every week we are called upon to announce some new industry for Redcliff.

This week we work on the construction of a new planing mill was started by the proprietors, Messrs. R. S. Houston, of Prince Edward Island, and A. H. Henry, of Nova Scotia.

The building is to be 20x30 feet and although at present it is the intention of the company to erect a one story foundation to carry three stories, it is being put up in two stages.

It is the intention of the company to make all kinds of mouldings, sashes, doors, etc., and as there is a big demand for this material in the West we feel sure it will not be long till the addition will be built and the planing mill will be among our big industries.

The building is at present being constructed well on in the neighborhood of $1,200.

Matched Horse Race for $20 a Side

For excitement the famous Derby wasn't in it for a minute with the matched horse race that was pulled off here last Monday afternoon. It happened this time. Mr. Taylor, of the town, Mr. Verr appeared on the scene with his saddle horse and his pinto. Apparently jealous of the admiring eyes cast on the pinto, Mr. Verr remarked his was the fastest horse anywhere. No longer said that Mr. Lynch, who knows something about horse flesh, planned a twenty-dollar William—one call bill, but we are not so familiar with it to be the matter of the race. On Monday night the race was pulled off in a mile dash. Verr was there with the berries and after reducing his weight to 150 lbs. he was ready to proceed to the race course just east of town. It was a good start and for the first part of the race the pinto gradually forced him in front until at the finish it was a fine turning twenty-dollar horse.

The race was won by the horse of Mr. Verr, who said: "I caught all other horses go by."

advisable to go to expense of providing other quarters.

The matter of changing the City Products spur track from the south to the north side of Railway street was brought up by the Mayor and was decided to have it done, and the Secretary-Treasurer was instructed to draw a cheque for $15 to cover the expense of the survey.

There being no other business the Council adjourned.

New Lighting Standard Suggested

Redcliff City Products Company Presents a New Lamp Post as a Feature for Broadway.

Manager Bryant, of the Redcliff City Products Company, has generally presented the town, with an object lesson in city lamps. His suggestions are in line with the city's possibilities, suggesting that the city may have something unique and valuable as an advertising feature as well as original, when the new cluster lights are installed on Broadway.

Mr. Bryant has built around the city lamp post in front of his office a brick argument that may well be duplicated at intervals along Broadway, and at less expense than the common iron standard used for street lighting. The design is suggestive of a cluster of leaves, and the work of the artist will result in a work of art.

Manager Bryant offers to erect at his own expense another one of these brick lamp posts at the corner of Broadway and the Boulevard to Medicine Hat, if the city will put in a light at that point.

Population and Building

Lighter New Believed to Have Thirty-Five Hundred Population, and Has Right Hundred House.

Some very reasonable estimates made by a local statistician after a careful census of the population of the town, indicates that Redcliff now has at least 2,500 inhabitants. His work, Mayor Bott, says he knows of one house where there are eight babies, which is doing very well in support of the contention that local people have been altogether too modest in their claims about population. Efforts are being made to have a police census taken this spring, and it may be known definitely what the population of Redcliff really is at this time.

There are 800 houses and business blocks in town, of which 158 are of brick, with twenty-five buildings in process of erection.

PUT BEHIND BARS FOR BOARD BILL

Our warning last week of the seriousness of skipping out without paying one's board bill was evidently not taken seriously by at least one young man in Redcliff. The result, however, will no doubt impress it on his mind and on the minds of others more deeply the mere warning in a newspaper.

A young man named Duffy left the Laurel Hotel rather suddenly last Sunday evening and besides leaving the hotel left a small board bill and a nasty note. A warrant was issued for his arrest and Constable Washford overtook him at Medicine Hat just as he was about to board the eastbound train for Moose Jaw. He was brought back here and spent the night behind the bars. On Monday morning he was brought before Magistrate Henderson and pleaded guilty to the charge. Chief Reynolds explained to the Court that there had been considerable trouble in the past by young fellows skipping out without paying board or leaving useless checks and it was time an example was made of such conduct in order to protect merchants and landlords who were good enough to extend credit.

Magistrate Henderson warned the accused of the seriousness of the act he had committed, showing how it was punishable by $100 fine or six months' imprisonment. On account of Duffy's evident desire, however, to make amends for his misdeeds and pay up his bill, the Magistrate decided to deal leniently with him and only ordered him to pay his bill and the costs of the Court.

Duffy was evidently fortunate in getting off so easily and no doubt the lesson will be a warning to him as well as others.

Oddfellows Will Observe Anniversary

The Oddfellows of Redcliff Lodge No. 90 will celebrate the anniversary of the order by attending—aligns some of the members of the order. The members and visitors are requested to meet at Crowe's hall at 6:30, where they will form in line and march to the church.

They will also hold a social in the lodge room on Wednesday evening, April 29, commencing at 8 o'clock.

Council Should Protect Gardens

Several residents in town are desirous of putting iron fences, flower beds, etc., planting trees and otherwise beautifying their premises, but before starting at it they would like if the council would pass and enforce a by-law prohibiting cows, horses, pigs and other animals from remaining at large. It is useless to expect people to make any move in this direction so long as these pests are allowed to roam at large. As nearly kept leapt are much to be desired the Council should get busy at once.

BIG HORSE RANCH NORTH OF REDCLIFF.

Hon. Col. Sam Hughes has been encouraged by the government to lease to the National Live Stock Exchange, limited, townships 20, 21 and 22, range 3 west of the fourth meridian, comprising sixty-four thousand acres of land lying sixty miles north of Redcliff, on the Red Deer River, for the purpose of collecting and providing there half-bred cavalry recruits. The company will pay a rental of two cents per acre for the land. The terms of this lease are that the company shall produce from thoroughbred sires of thoroughbred horses, recruits to the number of not less than 1,500 each year after 1910. The government of Canada to have right of pre-emption in respect of all horses raised in the exchange and the company must hold and mature until the age of three years all horses which the Minister of Militia may desire for military purposes. The price to be paid by the Minister is not to exceed the subletted sum of $500 per head. It is further agreed that the war office of Great Britain may have pre-emption rights in the same price and terms in respect to such horses as remain after the Minister has made his choice. The exchange would have the right, however, to retain fifty filly and fifty colts each year for breeding purposes.

As the result of a slight difference of opinion as to their individual ability as shot shooters, J. L. Landis and W. T. Lockwood will go to the score in a contest to decide the matter. A large-sized bet has been placed upon the result, and all records will doubtless be smashed. This big shooting event will probably be pulled off this week.

BIRTHS.

CHURCHES DECIDE TO ADVERTISE.

A movement that will be recognized as an epoch making event is being launched in Lethbridge and the enterprise will no doubt meet with the approval and co-operation of citizens who want to make Lethbridge a good place in which to live, and want to create favorable impressions in the minds of outsiders. A body of laymen of the city have decided that modern publicity can be made one of the most fruitful methods of promoting the work of the church.

Houses to Rent.

Well situated, rarely very reasonable. Gladly shown upon application. A. J. Nicholson, phone 57; office on Broadway.

VISITORS PLEASED WITH REDCLIFF

Mr. Sauter and Mr. Alexander, two government officials from the Inland Revenue Department, were in town last Saturday, inspecting the new cigar factory prior to leasing the license. Mr. R. A. Sewell, of the Inland Revenue Department, Medicine Hat, accompanied them. A representative of The Review took the visitors around through a few of the industries here and it certainly caused our guest to exclaim that Redcliff, but had no idea it was such a thriving town. The work turned out in the glass factory and Ornamental Iron plant was an eye opener to them. "There certainly is a great future in store for Redcliff," they said. "When we see this, and we surely think it will be the leading industry of the West in a very few years." "In fact," said Mr. Alexander, as a parting shot, "you can pretty nearly say that it is now."

Says Prospects Good for Sewer System

Engineer Francis, of Montreal, who has been here for the past week looking over the sewer system, has returned to his home in Montreal. To a representative of The Review Francis said Mr. Alexander, the local engineer, had furnished him with much valuable information and in fact, he believed that the Provincial Health Department at Edmonton was most satisfactory. He said the natural lay of the land here is such as will guarantee an excellent system at a reasonable cost.

Mr. Matthews, an engineer from Mr. Francis' head office, is still in town making additional surveys and gathering the necessary data. When this is completed Mr. Francis will proceed at once to lay out a system and expects to have it ready to lay before the Council in a few weeks. It is said to the Council they will proceed at once to take the necessary steps to have work started as soon as possible.

Redcliff Should Have Annual Sports Day

Now that we have a number of athletic organizations in town, and prospects are bright for good competition in all branches of sport, in the surrounding towns we would suggest that a public meeting of the different athletic organizations be called to discuss the matter of having a day set apart for an annual athletic day. The day needs not necessarily be a regular common holiday. In fact, we believe a day other than a public holiday is preferable, as summer public holidays are used now-a-days for an occasion of visiting, picnicking, etc. As most of the regular public holidays for this summer are now being used for the celebration of the centenary of the confederation of the north or another in surrounding towns we would suggest that a public meeting of the different athletic organizations be called to discuss the matter of having a day set apart for an annual athletic day. ## Easter Sunday at the Churches

Easter Sunday was happily observed at the different churches in town and good congregations attended each service.

At the Presbyterian Church—Both the church and the chancel were filled with attentive audiences and the platform and pulpit were decorated with Easter lilies, carnations and other flowers. As usual the congregational singing was hearty and inspiring. At the morning service a quartet sang: "The dawn of Easter's day," "Lift up thine eyes," a quartet: "Jesus, Saviour, pilot me," and another: "Praise the Lord, O Jerusalem," and an instrumental duet: violin and piano. At the service of song, which closed a day of much blessing, besides the general hymns, there was a solo and a duet. All this music was so rendered as to yield not only entertainment but also edification. The Pastor spoke in the forenoon of the resurrection into newness of life experienced by those who believe and in the evening of the power of Christ's resurrection.

Episcopal Church—The Holy Week services were well attended and on Good Friday there were a good number present at the 11 o'clock service in the vicarage when the vicar gave short address on the crucifixion. On Good Friday evening there was a lantern service in the Holy Hall which was well filled with people who much appreciated the famous pictures of the Passion; a short exposition and an address was given on each picture.

On Easter morning the Holy Communion was celebrated at 8 o'clock in the south room in the vicarage and was tastefully decorated with flowers by Mr. Harbert. There was a very hearty service at 11 o'clock followed by a choral celebration. The evening service was held in the Presbyterian Church which is kindly being lent for a time. The services throughout the day were most hearty and the Easter music entered into with a will. The Baptist Church observed the day in all its services. In the morning the pastor, Rev. R. V. Hinke, took as his subject, "The Easter Dawn," showing how it had shed its light on a new faith, a renewed hope and a more perfect love. In the evening he spoke on "Walking with Christ," basing the sermon on the walk which Christ took on that first Easter Sunday, to Emmaus with the two disciples. Easter anthems were sung by the choir at both services and in the evening Mrs. Washburn and Miss Vera Black rendered solos that were in line with the thought of the day. The Sunday school also had a special Easter program consisting of songs, recitations and instrumental music by the children and short addresses were given by Mr. Menzberger and Mr. Gable.

UNION EASTER SERVICES
AT THE AMUSEMENT THEATRE
One of the most important gatherings in the religious history of Redcliff occurred Sunday afternoon when the Union Bible Class and the Men's Christian League met for a union Easter service in the Amusement Theatre.

The time for opening found the house filled to its capacity. C. G. Hall presiding over the meeting, opened with a short review of the work accomplished by the two organizations. The three pastors of the city gave short addresses suited to the occasion. The Rev. R. C. B. Gibson, of the Church of England, spoke of the historical fact of the resurrection and the present day significance of Easter. The Rev. G. J. Gordon in his address alluded to the fact of the resurrection of Christ and the blessing of Christian unity and its necessity in the work of moral and social reform in this community. The Rev. R. V. Hinke took as his subject "The Touch of Christ," showing how the intimate personal touch of Christ with man, and of man with Him, was essential to Christian life and work. He dwelt upon the possibilities of the organization present to helping the church to bring this touch to those who have not felt it.

Handling the address, "an excellent Biblical program was given by the combined forces of the city, together with a number of beautiful color and slide. All enjoyed the program and went away with a real sense of inspiration. The power for good that these organizations have been in the city should be recognized by all and the heartiest co-operation be given them in the future.

Got Fingers Caught in Lawn Mower

Raymond White, the eight year old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. White, of Orchard division, met with a very painful as well as what might have been a fatal accident yesterday morning. He and some other children were playing with a lawn mower when little Raymond got both hands caught in the knives and before the other children knew what had happened the unfortunate boy had two fingers on each hand badly mangled. Dr. Wall was called in and found it necessary to amputate three fingers, two at the first joint and one near the second joint. The severe shock and loss of blood would surely have proved fatal for the prompt arrival of the doctor. When last heard the little sufferer was progressing favorably although suffering great pain.

The sale and social evening given last Wednesday evening by the Women's Auxiliary of the English Church was a great success. All present had a very enjoyable evening and dancing kept up till 1 o'clock. Mrs. M. Black and Mr. G. Worts were winners of the prizes for proved an excellent auctioneer when the boxes were put up for sale.

Messrs. J. H. McLean, A. Whiffin and Less Keller, of Medicine Hat, were visitors to town yesterday. They made the tour in eleven minutes, but Mr. McLean says they could have done better, only they lost five minutes turning out for rigs.

Miss Kimmet, who has been with her sister, Mrs. Kells, for the past two years, returned word from her home in the Isle of Wight that her mother was very ill. Miss Kimmet will sail for home next week.

Our town was besieged with all kinds of visitors this week. After being shown around through our several industries they left town convinced that all they had heard and read about Redcliff was quite true. Our local real estate officers report a number of sales of both residential and business property to some of the visitors.

Mrs. E. L. Aulman left last Wednesday for an extended visit to friends in St. Paul and Cincinnati.

A football match will be played here to-morrow between the Moose Club of Medicine Hat and the local Caladonians. The game will be played on Main Street grounds and will start at 6.15. Everybody come and see the game.

A very interesting bowling match was played at Black's bowling alley last Wednesday night between the South end pin splitters and Northern gustabusters. The contest was close all the way till the final when the Southerners put on an extra sport and went under the wire 141 points to the good. Mr. and Mrs. Black entertained both teams to a supper after the game.

Mr. Lou Harber is spending the week in Winnipeg on business.

REDCLIFF'S NEIGHBLY RELATIONS.

The people of this town should give some immediate consideration as to what its relations to the city of Medicine Hat are at present and to what they are likely to be in the future. In our opinion the futures of both communities are closely interlocked. In the nature of things, though we believe thoroughly in the present system of friendly rivalry in working out the industrial conditions of both centres. The citizens of Redcliff and of Medicine Hat mingle together on terms of friendliness and there have never been any serious conflicts between the two cities or corporations. Many citizens of Medicine Hat have substantial investments both in our real estate and in our busy industries, and conversely, Redcliff money has on occasions found its way into Medicine Hat. We think it proper to say that left to themselves, the rank and file of both places believe in living and letting live.

In every community, however, it is to be found men who, through themselves forward on every possible occasion and lacking the breadth which is generally characteristic of English speaking people, defeat by their narrow and selfish aims the broad-minded spirit of their fellow citizens. The average man, being passive, does not as a rule openly assert his disapproval of such methods and then it becomes the duty of the public-spirited newspaper to rise up and admonish those petty individuals whose abiding pursuit seems to be to destroy the healthful spirit of friendliness which every honest citizen likes to see flourish. We make these remarks as leading up to the statement, which we make without reserve, that while the majority of the citizens of Medicine Hat are friendly to Redcliff, there are officials connected with the Medicine Hat Board of Trade who, on every possible occasion and in a manner thoroughly reflecting their narrow spirit and their utter lack of common sense, every day court, ignore this town, its accomplishments and its ambitions. They are evidently all too ready to think that if they pass Redcliff over their heads, they will never manifest any desire to see it. This could only be the case if sojourner had no eyes to see or ears to hear, for Redcliff is talked of everywhere and receives a goodly measure of voluntary publicity in the leading newspapers both of Canada and the United States.

Perhaps it behooves us to give a case in point. A few days ago the publicity men of Alberta held a convention in the city of Medicine Hat. Redcliff, as our readers now, employs a capable and gentlemanly publicity man, yet this gentleman received no invitation to attend the convention until the eleventh hour. No provision could thus be made to show the visitors about this town, and the Medicine Hat officials of the Board of Trade who were in charge of affairs were careful to see that a trip to Redcliff did not form a part of the day's entertainment. We are sure, as we said before, that such actions will not meet with the approval of the majority of the citizens of our sister city. We unhesitatingly say that no jack-in-office should be allowed by parish acts to allow a false impression of the spirit of the men of Medicine Hat to go abroad and we are somewhat surprised that a more general resentment is not shown.

The Review is among those who believe that the future manufacturing of the West will be done in Redcliff and in Medicine Hat. We are sure that there are enough industries for the both of us and that even if under any circumstances a spirit of petty jealousy could be justified there is absolutely no place for it as between the sister cities of Southern Alberta. Communitarianism with vast dreams and great achievements should place their destinies in control of men of vision, with minds and hearts inclined toward equity.

THE NEW VOTERS' LIST.

At the last regular meeting of the Council a delegation was present to register a complaint against the proposed change in the method of compiling the voters' lists. Since we have heard considerable discussion on this matter we have taken the time to go thoroughly into the question in order that we may be able to place it fairly before our readers.

In the first place we find that there has been no change in the law, as some state, but rather that the voters' list in the past have not been compiled in compliance with the law as entered on the statutes by the provincial government some time ago.

We have heard some people blame the Council for making the proposed changes, but so far as we can figure out the Council has no alternative. The voters' lists have been compiled illegally in the past according to the legal interpretation of the act and the present Council are undertaking to make the lists legal and in keeping with the law as prescribed by the provincial government.

As a matter of fact the whole question is one that concerns the assessors more than the Council, as the town act reads: "The assessor shall assess every person having an interest in assessable land in the town, either as the owner or occupant."

In another section of the same act "owner" is defined as follows: "Owner means and includes any person who appears by the records of the land titles office of the land registration district within which such land is situated, to have any interest in any land in a town other than as a mortgagee or an encumbrance."

As will be seen by this the assessor's duties are clearly defined. According to this the man who appears on the records of the land titles office for any property and it is to him the Council must look for the taxes on the property. As a natural result he also is the one who would be expected to have the vote on that land.

In looking at this from the several angles and remembering the tendency of dealing in real estate for speculative purposes, which naturally means the turning over of one piece of property several times during the year, we can readily see that the line must be drawn some place, otherwise one piece of property might change hands say three times in as many months. Each of the three men whose hands it passed through might have an equal equity in the property and the question would arise which one should vote on it. Each would claim an equal right to the vote and it was, no doubt, to remove this difficulty the government created the above mentioned act.

Then, again, if people were allowed to vote on agreements of sale only, it would open up an avenue for all kinds of corruption in municipal elections. For instance, if the owner of a subdivision so desired he could, just before an election, make out agreements of sale for every lot in the subdivision and pass them around to every Tom, Dick and Harry just to entitle them to a vote. If this were allowed it would mean that any big real estate corporation could carry off a defeat any by-law they wished, or elect any men to public office they desired. With the law as it now reads, however, the possibility of this is done away with. On the whole we believe the situation under the present act is not as serious as some would have us think. If a man purchases a piece of property, and has not made his payments on it, but is desirous of having a vote, he may do so by going to the registered owner and giving him a mortgage on the property, in return for which the registered owner may have the title transferred. This has already been done by several who were placed in this position and have taken the trouble to get acquainted with the conditions rather than do nothing but find fault.

The Council will sit as a court of revision next Monday, as advertised in another column, when an opportunity will be given to any who may wish to know whether or not they are on the list.

Hon. W. R. Motherwell, Minister of Agriculture in the Saskatchewan Legislature, says the recent reduction in the tariff on farm machinery only means a saving of 80 cents a year to the farmer. According to Mr. Motherwell's figuring it would only mean a saving of $1.80 to each farmer in Canada if these implements were entirely free of duty. It doesn't seem worth all the fuss that is being made over it. In 1878 the tariff on agricultural implements was 35 per cent. From time to time this duty has been reduced till now it is only 12 1/2 per cent. Notwithstanding these periodical reductions farmers are paying more for those same agricultural implements now than they did fifteen years ago.

Tenders are being called for the building of a new telephone exchange in Medicine Hat. We hope Redcliff's member will do something along this line for Redcliff soon.

CO-OPERATION OUR MOTTO.

Judging from present indications Redcliff will maintain the pace it has already set and will grow and prosper this year in keeping with its annual development, since the town started. True our growth was somewhat retarded during the past year, and although the depression was world-wide in scope, the twin cities of Redcliff and Medicine Hat felt it less and recovered more quickly than any other cities in the West.

Our industries all running to their fullest capacity, others in course of construction, and still others on the way. The expenditure by the Council of over $155,000 for water extensions, local improvements, etc., the building of several business blocks, residences and churches, the prospect of installing a power system and the opening of trade which naturally accompany such development, a busy summer and still busier fall is assured for Redcliff.

These will all contribute to Redcliff's continued growth and development during the next year.

It is said "there is a tide in the affairs of man which if taken at the flood leads on to fortune." This is equally true of a town. The tide for Redcliff is just coming in. There is plenty of time to be ready for the flood, which is to be the forerunner of the great industrial business centre of the future Redcliff and that is by the whole-hearted spirit of co-operation on the part of every man, woman and child in town at the present time.

There is probably no town in Canada to-day better advised and more talked about than Redcliff, and everybody attributes our great success and progress to the unanimity or our citizens in the past.

Since that unanimity of purpose has worked such wonders in the past let it continue in the future. With it and our present bright prospects our most sanguine predictions will be realized.

No doubt some mistakes have been made in the past, and, realizing the frailty of the flesh, the chances are mistakes will be made in the future. If it be so, let us be consolation in the fact that when or where the town never made a mistake is the man or the town that never did anything worth while.

THE STORY OF THE SALMON

In a Few Years It Has Become a Staple Food All Over the World.

ROMANCE OF THE SALMON TRAPS

The Story Opens at the Beginning of the Year, and the Commencement of History When Only the Indian Knew the Coming and Going of the Salmon.

(Special to The Review by C. B. Rice.)

The story of the coast salmon opens at the beginning of the year, when the blackmouth, or "winter salmon," appears on his playgrounds in the harbors, and around the islands of Puget Sound. The blackmouth is a widely scattered variety, and in numbers caught about sufficient to supply the local demand for fresh salmon. This fish is of fine quality, reaching a weight of ten to twenty pounds. They are only caught by trolling, the fishermen using small motor boats for the purpose. By the first of March they have all disappeared, and thereafter some other variety of salmon is running all through the balance of the year.

The "King," "Tyee," or "spring," as it is locally known, is the next visitor from the depths of the ocean. The spring comes not in schools or "runs," but scatters along the coast and islands, where he departs among the minnows, occasionally coquetting with a trolling spoon, until, far into the summer, the spring is found in the largest of the coast salmon, reaching a weight of ten to eight pounds. He is identical with the famous Columbia River salmon, and the King salmon of Alaska, and is of the finest quality. Large numbers of them wander into the traps during the late spring and summer.

This fine fish is not canned, but is shipped on ice and sold fresh to markets near and remote. At Campbell River, on Vancouver Island, the spring is found in large numbers and many famous anglers from Canada and abroad go there every year for a tussle with the salmon king. They are caught trolling with a rod and line, and afford glorious sport for the fisherman. About the middle of July, the sockeye, commercially the most valuable of the coast salmon, starts on his pilgrimage to the Fraser River, where they were born. Every four years since history supplies a record, the sockeye have appeared in numbers that have swamped all efforts of the canners to care for them. Their route through the straits and among the islands on the "American side" is as plainly defined as a prairie trail. Their blue backs make a dark streak from the ocean to the Fraser River. There is no deviation from their course, and every few miles they are met by the traps of the Fraser. Reaching the mouth of the Fraser, they are waylaid by a fleet of gill-nets, numbering 500 or more. With numbers sadly depleted, the survivors continue their journey to the head waters of the river to spawn. Having fulfilled their destiny, they die. The sockeye differs from the other varieties in having flesh of a deep red, fat and juicy. The pack of sockeye on Puget Sound in 1913 was about 4,000,000 cases, valued at over $12,000,000. Along in August when the run of sockeye is slackening in the Humboldt appears, and the fishermen know the run of sockeye is 'a-bout over. Every two years the run of the Humboldt salmon is heavy. When the sockeye run is large, few "Humbolds" are caught. In the lean years for sockeye the "Humboldt" is king. In 1912 there were no sockeye, and the record pack of "Humbolds" was nearly as large and valuable as the best sockeye pack. The "Humboldt" is the least esteemed of the coast salmon. If you find a pale pink fish in your can, you may know you have the "Humboldt" in your bill of fare. Starting in September, the silver salmon, or "Chinook," is the next variety to wiggle in from the ocean, river bound to its spawning grounds. The silver has no regular course to land. They gather in favorite spots along the shores and harbors of the Sound. They are a medium quality fish. Few of them are canned. Their flesh may be in any of the rivers that empty into the Sound, and when ripe for spawning they begin to back there. Many of them are caught around the mouths of the rivers and they are the most plentiful variety to be found in the markets.

The last of the salmon tribe to run in the '70s, is the dog, or "Chum," as it is known commercially. This is the variety most esteemed by the Indians, because it is especially adapted to the primitive curing process used by the Indians. Few of them are marketed, and they do not appear to white folk.

The life of the salmon presents a story of human interest all through its career from the nursery to the sea, and back again to its birthplace in response to the call of nature to reproduce its kind. The life of the young salmon is beset with enemies. It runs the gauntlet of even more upon its return. Worn out with its struggle to reach the headwaters of the stream, it becomes a gaudy, and gaudy specimen with minnows, jaws and a sickly, wet and yellow complexion.

This is the story of the salmon. The story of its capture—their human greed that led to the destruction of the buffalo, the wild pigeon, the greed that will yet lead to the extinction of the most valuable variety of salmon is another story. It is a romance of absorbing interest.

The story of the first organized effort was made to trap the salmon in Puget Sound. Orward Steele drove a number of traps along the shores of the Gulf of Georgia, and built a small cannery at Fairhaven, Washington. He demonstrated that a trap of driven piles, with webbing to hold the fish, would catch salmon by the hundreds of thousands. His success resulted in the capture of many traps, located along the route taken by the sockeye. Then "Big Business" came along with some millions of syndicate money. They bought up all the locations of one, paying as high as $98,000 for one of them. They organized a company, and all the canneries available monopolized the entire fishing industry of Puget Sound.

But "Big Business" accumulated too many traps, they had in mind. A receiver took charge of some of the establishment as could be seen to advantage, and the business has since been carried on successfully. It will continue as long as the salmon king. The term will be long or short according to the activities of the fishermen and canners.

ALTERATIONS IN HOME-

STRAID REGULATIONS.

There are many homesteads, especially in hilly spots in Alberta, on which people have entered without first investigating the title which are better adapted for raising cattle and hogs than wheat and barley. Under the old rules the patent for these lands was governed by the same law as the most prolific grain growing sections, which entailed both hardship and loss upon the homesteader.

Recognizing this disability, the present government has passed an amendment to the homesteading act by which the holder of such land may, at any time, before the expiration of the term, cause a survey to be made of the land, and if it is found that the land is better adapted for raising cattle and hogs than wheat and barley, he may, by paying a stipulated number of acres into cereal cultivation to enable him to secure his patent.

This will encourage mixed farming and materially assist the farmer. Nor should this relaxing of the old law lead to abandoning the growing of a certain amount of grain, for the keeper of stock will require winter feed for his animals, as well as grain he is planning for feed he should be encouraged to seed for sale also, and to fatten them to a fine state ready to fetch top market prices, so that will thus be able to realize a profit while on his cultivated land and on his live stock. In this case he will not be carrying all his eggs in one basket.

IRRIGATION CONVENTION

TO BE HELD IN CALGARY.

The International Irrigation Congress will meet in Calgary on Oct. 6, 7, 8 and 9. The affair will be staged at Victoria Park, which has been set at the disposal of the board of control by the Calgary exhibition board.

It was decided to hold a large international exhibition of agricultural products and fruit in conjunction with the congress. An invitation to the province has been extended to all the different states and provinces, and it is expected that at least twenty-two will take advantage of this offer.

The United States government will also have a splendid exhibit of farm products, while the Dominion of Canada will have a unique display.

SETTLERS COMING FROM MINNESOTA.

"I have no doubt that Minnesota this year alone will send between twelve and fourteen thousand immigrants into the Western provinces, while, notwithstanding the desperate efforts of interested corporations in a number of the middle states, expectations and assurances are that immigration prospects from these quarters are brighter than they have ever been before." The above statement was made by Mr. J. Bruce Walker, commissioner of immigration for the Dominion, who is at present in Calgary.

Redcliff Wins First Game of Season

Goal Crowd Seen Opening Football Game—Local Make Good Showings—Mayor Bell Starts the Ball Rolling.

Good Friday amplified its name and came out in her best clothes, the sun shining brightly giving the day direct to the usual early that holidays are nearly always accompanied with bad weather. Fully five hundred spectators were in the main street enclosure at 4 p. m. last Friday, when Councillor Donald McLachlan escorted Mayor Bell to the centre of the field. The Workshop covering the football action for 1914 by kicking off for Medicine Hat, who had lost the toss and were playing from the north goal.

Play in the early stages was of the feeling description and the twenty-two Scotchmen were actually taking careful stock of each other, while Wallace, on the other hand, was on, but ammunition was being reserved. The Gold Dust Twins—Ed. Cannon and "Little" Billy—Wain, seemed very nervous, making a violent run on the Medicine Hat goal, but a neat piece of handwork by the Hatters in the back division saved the situation, and the ball was rushed down the hill toward Peterson, the big Redcliff commodore. The attack, however, only for a minute or two as Porteous and Hopkins, on the Hat right wing, came away in great shape, and carrying over in front of the goal mouth the visitors' left flyer, Wallace, had a bang in at Peterson, who saved in great style. It was quite noticeable at this time that while the forward divisions of both teams were playing in "first-match-of-the-season-hill-country-style," the backs were steady and reliable.

Redcliff now had a fine run up the hill with Andy Learmonth in evidence, but Stevenson cleared, only to be immediately called upon to defend his citadel a minute or two afterwards, some wild play resulting in Pickering ultimately serving splendidly from the attacking back, and relieving his side for the time being. Wallace, the speedy left winger of the Hat, has a great run, but shoots wide, the ball going over the bar like a muffed bomb. Davey Gordon came into line about this time, but he and his team mate, Blatchley, had their heads together and the game is stopped for scalp rubbing.

A penalty kick in front of the Hat goal came to six, and a corner immediately after resulted in a similar fashion. The Hat backs were playing a great game, but the Redcliff boys were out for business and the Hatters' days of defence were numbered. Ed. Cannon scores for Redcliff, but the point is disallowed on account of off side. Ed, however, shortly makes up for such disallowance and shoots in a beauty, beating Pickering. A. Learmonth and Bill Evans were now in big form, but the whistle blew for half-time, with Redcliff leading 1 to 0.

When the teams faced each other for the final stage of the game several changes were noticed, various players transferring their abilities to other parts of the field, and apparently the change worked all right, as the final results showed. Redcliff was now playing down hill toward the south goal, but what little wind had assisted the Hat in the first half, had dropped.

Play started with a big rush in the second half, Tom Gordon and Billy Watson being in great evidence, as was Goldie, the brilliant little Hat half back. Porteous and Hopkins, on the Hat right, made things look dangerous for Peterson, and from the press box it appeared a disposition was on in goal mouth, a goal apparently being claimed by the Hat, but Referee McLean, who had officiated quite fairly said no goal, and the ball was kicked out by the goal keeper.

Andy Learmonth and Jamie Johnston were busy now and looked like scoring but no result. Porteous, the Hat right outside, had heavily hard lines and was playing a great game with little support. He missed the goal by a "small Scotch" and immediately after when he had the goal at his mercy, used his left foot in mistake, the ball going toward McLachlan's house instead of through the goal. Tom Gordon, A. Learmonth and W. Watson, with a nice piece of combination, notch goal No. 2 for Redcliff, the goal keeper, Pickering, showing some excellent work about this time. Goldie and Porteous are working strong, but can't get past Evans and Alice Learmonth, these backs playing a splendid game, the latter deciding to take a sort of forenoon hand in the game, rushing down and puts in a beautiful goal, raising the score to 3 to 1. Johnston gave extremely persuasive about this time, but Goldie has him spotted and won't accept the passwork, little James, however, makes the mistake, and amidst loud cheers, scores a fourth goal for the homesters. Nothing more of an exciting nature happened, the game was Redcliff first, last and all the times the referee's whistle blew at the time with the substantial victory of four goals to one in favor of Redcliff. The line-up: Redcliff—Goal, Peterson; backs, W. Evans (captain), D. Gordon; half-backs, Connell, Blatchley, Alex. Learmonth; forwards, T. Gordon, W. Watson, E. Cameron, J. Johnston, Andy Learmonth; Lineman, David Kerr. Medicine Hat—Goal, Pickering; backs, Stevenson, Smith; half-backs, Goldie, McIntyre, Pearson; forwards, Porteous, Hopkins, Henderson (captain), Milroy, Wallace; Lineman A. Nicol.

Referee—Mr. Peter McLean.

FOUR GUNMEN DIE

IN ELECTRIC CHAIR

The four New York gunmen convicted of the murder of Herman Rosenthal, died in the electric chair at Sing Sing prison at the break of day Easter Monday morning. No bar confessed his guilt, and no one mentioned the name of Charles Becker, the former police lieutenant, found guilty of instigating the murder, but saved by the court of appeals several Of the four who died, Frank Seldenshner ("Whitely Lewis") made the only statement. Even he did not flatly swear his innocence.

A Donkhor uprising, as fantastic as the "clothesed march" in search of the Messiah, that started Canada in 1903, threatens British Columbia. Unless the police prevent it, the Donkhorists will be garbed only in "boilers of spirit" when they trudge across the plains of British Columbia, as a protest against the jaw of the land which requires them to register all births, deaths and marriages.

PROVINCIAL INDUSTRIAL ASSOCIATION FORMED

"The Industrial and Publicity Association of Alberta" is the name of the organization which was launched at the second meeting of the industrial and publicity commissioners of the province held in Medicine Hat last week. Andrew Miller, industrial commissioner of the city of Calgary, was chosen president of the association; T. T. John, publicity commissioner of the city of Calgary, was made secretary-treasurer.

The fifth convention of the teachers of Alberta opened last Tuesday at the new Wesley Church, Lethbridge, with nearly 400 in attendance. Hon.

J. B. Boyle, Provincial Minister of Education, spoke on the importance of vocational education, and outlined the plan of the government for encouraging the same. Prof. J. W. Robertson, chairman of the royal commission on technical education, strongly urged the necessity for vocational training in the way of technical education with the need of federal aid for carrying out the scheme in the provinces.

Great excitement reigns in Calgary among those interested in the development of the prospective oil fields southwest of the city as the result of strong indications that the Dinagman discovery well of Calgary Petroleum Products Company, in section 6, township 20, range 2, west of the fifth meridian, is about to pierce into a big oil bearing strata. A heavy, dark appearing gas is pouring from the lower level of the well which is now at a distance of more than 2,325 feet deep.

(over-vent) are officially certified and adopted by the time inspectors of one hundred and forty of the leading railroads of America. Better than that, their daily performance is finer, more accurate than the most exacting railroad requirements. The balance-wheel of the Howard Watch is made of special hardened steel and will not break out of with the jar and vibration of railroad service. Howard watchmen make and adjust every Howard in a few weeks. Cased in the factory and tried in its own use. Priced below the price of other railroad watches $20 to $40.

Let us show you this distinctive watch.
